

A golden soccer ball is suspended in the air at the top center of the frame. Below it, four children are playing in a lush green field. One child in a green shirt is jumping high with arms outstretched towards the ball. Two other children, one in a red shirt and one in a blue shirt, are also jumping or running towards the ball. A fourth child in a blue shirt is on the left, looking up. The background is a dense forest of tall trees with green foliage, creating a soft, natural setting.

notice to the man or woman who has downloaded this knowledge

The knowledge contained in these pages is provided by we as mankind to you as mankind only;

We do not give legal advice; we share knowledge of law and of how those of mankind can take full responsibility for themselves and those in their care;

You agree to take full responsibility for your use of the knowledge we share here; if you do not agree with this, you should read no further;

This knowledge is private, for those of mankind only; we share it with you in the private; and require that you do not share this knowledge in the public domain,

The knowledge shared here is an overview only; it describes how a man or woman who knows their rights, knows how to set their law, and knows how to press claims against those who trespass against them, can protect themselves and those in their care;

You should not send the kind of notice we share here if you do not know how to do these things; a man or woman who has this knowledge is powerful; a man or woman who does not have this knowledge and does try to act as if they do, is likely to do harm to themselves and to others;

The greatest threat to the health and wellbeing of mankind on this planet at this time is the lack of knowledge of the rights of mankind and of how to enforce those rights;

For a full understanding of law, your rights as one of mankind, and how to establish and enforce your law and rights, we offer an in-depth knowledge share the importance of presenting notice to those of mankind who you entrust to care for your little ones

Would you give a stranger the keys to your car – your property – without telling them how you expected them to treat that property and when to return it?

Would you rent your house – your property – to someone without an agreement that specifies how they are required to treat said property?

And yet so many of us do entrust our most precious property of all to men and women we barely know without ever setting any laws as to how they are to treat that property;

yes, your sons and daughters are your property;

Property is that which a man or woman possesses exclusive to all others in a society - to claim your sons and daughters as your property does not mean they are your slaves, it means they are in your care; the only thing you have rights to as a man or woman is your property; you must be willing to claim those in your care as your property if you wish to protect them;

the dangers to those in our care are greater than ever:

- Will they be taken without your knowledge or permission to a quarantine centre because someone in their school tested positive for a disease no one even knows is real?
- Will they be taught about anal sex and how to masturbate as part of some twisted new curriculum you weren't told about?
- Will they be give vaccines because of a so-called 'health emergency' without your permission?

Well the reality of today's world is that they very well might be if you haven't properly set the law in regard to your property to those to whom you entrust said property;

notice is how you set that law;

the grand deception

A small number of those of mankind have conspired to create and sustain a system which uses legal codes, acts & statutes to try to deceive and coerce those of mankind to harm each other;

Many of those of mankind have been deceived to such extent that they are willing to do harm to each other to enforce and comply with those legal codes, acts & statutes; even to children;

No man or woman is actually required to follow any of those legal codes, acts or statutes;

The only way any of the legal codes, acts or statutes can apply to you or those in your care is if you are willing to accept the title of person, or citizen, or subject... doctor, nurse, farmer... something, anything, other than man or woman;

When you play monopoly, you use a boot or a ship or whatever as a token to play; at no point do you forget you are a man or woman sat at a table to play a game; at no point do you believe you are the boot - you never actually become the ship; you would never consider letting the banker in the game tell you what you can and can't do when you get up from the table; you would never let him take ownership of the actual roof over your head; that would be crazy... right?

By taking a title like person, citizen, employee, mister, freeman, etcetera, that is exactly what you do though - you become the ship; you bind yourself, and those in your care, to the game and you give away yourself, your property and your rights - you literally give those in your care to the care of others;

the greatest danger to you and those in your care is your willingness to do this, and your lack of knowledge of how to stop doing it;

The so-called system is nothing more than an elaborate game of monopoly; the only thing that makes it harder to see is that your token for the game happens to have a name that sounds similar to yours, but it doesn't make you the ship; not until you take a title that the game controls rather than stand as a man or woman only;

knowledge of the law for mankind is the key to be free;

law for mankind foundations

What are the rights of a man or woman?

Technically, a man or woman has the right to do anything which does not cause harm or loss to another man or woman;

Practically, only a man or a woman who understands law actually has any rights;

Property is the foundation of the rights of a man or woman, because a man or woman has the ability to set the law over his or her property;

Property is that which a man or woman possesses, exclusive to all others in a society; if you wish to protect your little ones, you must be willing to claim them as your property;

Human-rights are not rights, and civil-rights are not rights – they are benefits and privileges of the legal society;

What is a notice, and why are notices so important?

A notice is the means by which a man or woman can:

- state the law regarding his or her property;
- remove controversy;
- claim remedy;

These things are the foundation of a free life and you cannot do them, or be certain of success in doing them, except by proper notice;

What is trespass?

The highest wrong a man or woman can do to another man or woman; not to be claimed lightly;

Trespass occurs ONLY where:

- a man or woman fails to provide remedy for harm or loss to another man or woman after being given proper notice of said harm or loss;
- a man or woman is given advance notice of the law of another man or woman's property, and does trespass upon said laws and rights;

If one of these things has not happened, it is not trespass; no notice, no trespass;

What does 'require' really mean?

Require is where a man or woman has authorisation to tell another man or woman what to do in regard to a certain matter;

So a man or woman who acts as agent with fictitious title does NOT have the authority to require you to do anything... unless or until you diminish your status as a man or woman to that of something which the fictitious title they claim has authority over (i.e. by taking a title yourself);

On the other hand if a man or woman who acts as agent with fictitious title does harm to you or those in your care, and you did establish by notice the facts of a trespass by way of harm, then you DO have an authorisation to require that man or woman to provide remedy;

remedy by way of notice

If some harm does befall your little ones while at school - something that is done to them intentionally contrary to your wishes - that is trespass by a man or woman ONLY if you have given proper notice of your law for your property as a man or woman;

if you have not given notice, it is not trespass;

When you have given proper notice, you will have a lawful claim for trespass against the man or woman who did the trespass or, as may be the case where you entrust your property to another, the man or woman who did allow the trespass to occur;

When you have given proper notice though - as a man or woman only, to a man or woman only - few will dare to trespass upon your property, in this instance your sons and daughters, in the first place;

This is the beauty of the law for mankind - it is the key to bring peace and remedy to every area of life;

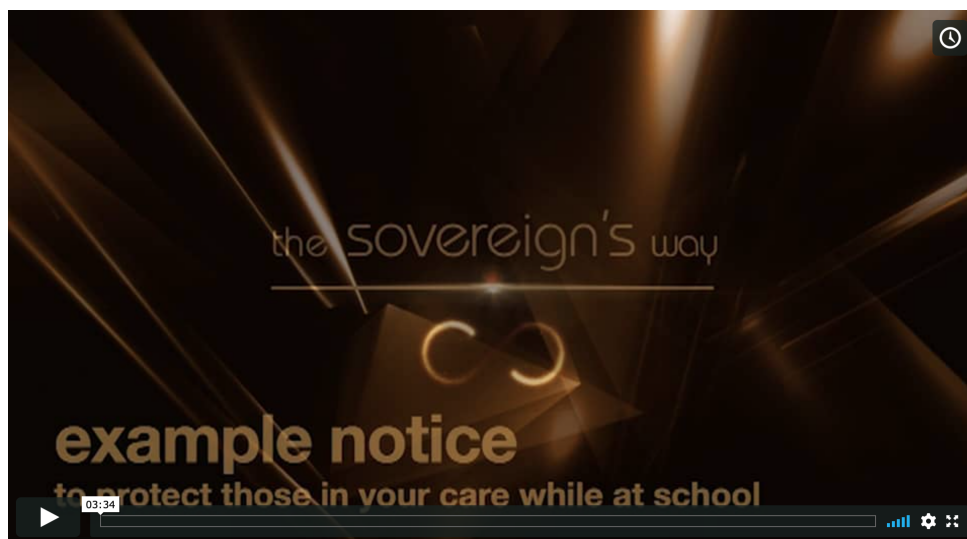

It is the simplicity of the law for mankind, which is the hardest thing to grasp;

How to write a notice

There are a few basic rules that every notice should follow:

- It should start with the word 'notice';
- There should be no full-stop until your notice is complete;
- You should not express opinions or emotions – state facts and prove those facts by evidence where necessary;
- Never make a threat;
- Use as few words as possible;
- Never explain yourself;
- Don't use flowery language;
- Don't use adjectives – adjectives diminish the power of words;
- You must autograph your notices;
- You need to send via a signed-for postal service, and ensure you retain proof of delivery;
- You must address the notice always to a single man or woman only – if you wish to present notice to more than one wo/man, you need to send more than one notice;

The video below gives an example of a notice that a man or woman might send, to a man or woman who at times acts as headteacher to set the law in regard to those in their care;

This example notice is shared in audio format because it is important that any notice you send is your own creation; that it is made by your own hand, and that you feel able to stand by the words you write as a man or woman;

Please note: it is extremely important that you establish yourself in the law for mankind – that you know how to press a claim for trespass as one of mankind, and how to bring remedy at all levels of law – before sending or giving any such notices; it is not complicated, but it is necessary; and if you do send such a notice before being grounded in said knowledge, it is important that you act swiftly to acquire said knowledge before you get called out to use it;

it is only when you know how to do these things, that you will not be called to;

The only threat to we of mankind and to those in our care is men and women who act as agents with fictitious titles taking advantage of our lack of knowledge of our rights and how to stand as a man or woman at law, to convert us into a person with a title that they control;

The beautiful thing about this is that we each have the power to extinguish the threat by establishing ourselves in the knowledge of the law for mankind;

knowledge is power;

knowledge of the law for mankind sets us free;

The application of the law for mankind is far greater than simply being able to protect those in your care while they are at school - it is the power to set your law to govern your life, so you can live life on your terms without giving away yourself, your property or your rights to anyone ever again - it is the power to remake you life so that no one in your care will ever again need to go near such an environment in the first place;

To say however that with great power comes great responsibility is an understatement; with great power also comes great consequences for the misuse of that power even if by ignorance; it is crucial to also obtain a full understanding of the higher laws and how they operate upon those of mankind before you attempt to apply this knowledge;

For a full understanding of all layers of law for mankind, your rights as one of mankind, and how to establish and enforce your law and rights, we offer an in-depth 12-week knowledge share
